SYDNEY BUSINESS SCHOOL
The Sydney Business School (SBS) has campuses at the University of Wollongong (UOW), its city campus in Sydney and UOW campuses including Moss Vale. The School offers a range of postgraduate business courses and provides professionally focused executive education programs and specially tailored short courses to external clients. Our hallmark is our strong focus on leadership and our commitment to developing in our students the ability to negotiate complex business environments. The School’s programs of study are challenging and academically rigorous. We expect our students to think strategically and present cohesive, well researched ideas and arguments. The School has a strong and dynamic faculty committed to excellence in teaching and research, and to strengthening our links with industry, business and government.

MASTER OF MANAGEMENT
The Master of Management (MMgt) is offered by the Sydney Business School and provides an opportunity for managers to enhance their career opportunities by developing professional, personal and technical skills in key business areas. The degree consists of eight subjects and is designed to widen and improve skills on the complex and specific issues impacting on business performance. Units completed in this program may also be credited towards other programs offered at the Wollongong Campus or Sydney Business School.

Sample program of study
› Supply Chain Management
› Innovation Topics and Cases
› Contemporary Issues in Management
› Quality in Management
› Accounting for Managers
› Statistics for Decision Makers
› Managing People in Organisations
› Economic Analysis of Business Environments

Entry
Applicants for the Master of Management should have a Bachelor degree in a relevant discipline from a recognised tertiary institution with an average mark of at least 60% and at least two years work experience. Students with a course average lower than 60% will be required to demonstrate an adequate level of appropriate work experience.

Delivery
The program has been designed for those who work full-time. Classes are held one evening each week. Each unit is delivered over nine weeks of seminars, followed by a short break before moving onto the next subject. This allows students to concentrate on just one subject at a time and complete the program in manageable segments while still completing four units each year.
Those students who wish to complete a management development program of shorter duration, may apply to enrol in the Graduate Certificate of Management (GCM). The GCM consists of four subjects usually requiring 12 months of part time study. Upon successful completion of the GCM, students may apply to progress to the Masters program with credit for subjects under the Graduate Certificate.

Entry
Applicants for the GCM should have managerial work experience and typically a minimum of two years equivalent fulltime study in a relevant discipline.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT UNITS
Students also have the option of attending individual units purely for professional development. Students completing individual professional development units will be issued a Certificate of Participation. Those who successfully complete all assessment tasks for Professional development units will be able to seek credit towards the Master of Management or Graduate Certificate in Management should they choose to continue their studies in one of these degree programs.

Entry
Applicants should have at least five years managerial experience.
